LIVE MUSIC in Rotherhithe, one of London's most charming neighbourhoods.

APRIL - JULY 2019

ARCOPIA

Thu 11th Apr, 7.45pm (doors 7pm)

St Mary's Church, Rotherhithe

British/German acoustic string trio Arcofia has played on many a stage in Germany and elsewhere in Europe and with this will be making its UK debut: expect a colourful combination of jazz, folk, world and rock/fusion: "groove-based" music brought to you by sought-after Cologne-based cellist Gunther Tiedmann and London-based violinist Chris Haigh and cellist Rupert Gillett, the latter also on guitar and voice.

MARY ANN KENNEDY

Fri 3rd May, 7pm (doors 6.30pm)

Finnish Church, Albion St, Rotherhithe

Brought up in Glasgow Mary Ann Kennedy, widely known for her outstanding collaborations and broadcasting career, returns to Rotherhithe to perform songs from her new album "Glaschu", a celebration of songs, spirit, feelings and laughter, it tells the story of growing up as an urban Gael and revels in the wit and vivid songwriting of some of the great Glaswegian Gaels.

"DESDE EL SILENCIO"

Wed 5th June, 7.45pm (doors 7pm)

Sands Films Studios, Main Stage

A decade on from when Chilean dancer Natalia García Huidobro established the contemporary flamenco company La Típica here in London, 'Desde el Silencio' returns to the stage. A journey through moments of intimacy: loneliness, parting of ways, joy, transformations and the crucial moments that help us find our true selves. La Típica take the language and structure of flamenco as a starting point, but bring it firmly into the present, breaking free from clichéd ideas of flamenco. Music and choreography interact and evolve organically together: both sung and spoken word express the beauty of flamenco poetry, creating a rhythmic dialogue with the dancer.

APRIL - JULY 2019 ...continued

American Independence Day Special: CORY SEZNEC BAND
Thu 4th July, 7.45pm (doors 7pm)
St Mary's Church, Rotherhithe

Somewhere between musical wanderer and uncertified ethnomusicologist dwells Cory Seznec & his unique world. A French-American musician now in Paris, Cory has blended his early introduction to American fingerstyle guitar & clawhammer banjo with techniques he discovered on more recent travels in East Africa, giving birth to a more syncopated, polyrhythmic and cross-pollinated style. "Music that sits somewhere just outside the bluegrass-blues-folk-country-world music time-stream, dipping its toe in all of them..." (fRoots). With him come a stellar group of fellow Parisians on harmonica, guitar & percussion.

HANITRA
Wed 17th July, 7.45pm (doors 7.15pm)
St Mary's Church, Rotherhithe

Two years since her scintillating UK debut with us, "one of Madagascar's true musical icons" (R2 Magazine), singer songwriter & guitarist Hanitra returns with her trio to again perform songs from her latest album "Lasa". Her seasoned vocals rise and fall effortlessly through an ever-changing landscape as she melds tradition with contemporary issues in her songs, both in homage to all women and one woman in particular, the late French-Canadian singer Lhasa de Sela, whose phenomenal talent saw her win many a prestigious award, including BBC Radio 3's Best World Music Artist of the Americas in 2005.

LITTLE SYMPHONIC DUET
Thu 25th July, 7.45pm (doors 7pm)
St Mary's Church, Rotherhithe

The Little Symphonic Duet are aptly named, as they're an astonishing duo capable of performing symphonies with nothing more than a charango, a small, traditional stringed instrument from the Andes, and a guitar. Led by Italy-based, highly accomplished Chilean musician Michel Barros Bessone, who has developed a particular way to use the uñeta, or plectrum, - a way of plucking that simulates the instruments that play the higher notes in an orchestra. This duo will dazzle with Michel's incredible arrangements of works by Beethoven, Mozart, Bach, Vivaldi, Rossini and more, delivered in a manner you have never heard before. Expect one or two traditional, folkloric tunes thrown in, and a special guest!
